The Journal of San Diego History

Contents

Volume XXXV

1989

THE SAN DIEGO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

San Diego, California

NUMBER 1—WINTER 1989

1 The Cobblestone Connection in San Diego's Architectural History
by BARBARA E. FREDRICH

22 A Visit to the Home of California's First Martyr
by NORMAN NEUERBURG

28 A History of Santa Rosalía in Baja California
by MARIA EUGENIA B. DE NOVELO

44 Prostitutes, Progressives, and Police: The Viability of Vice in San Diego, 1900-1930
by CLARE V. McKANNA, JR.

66 Book Reviews

NUMBER 2—SPRING 1989

75 A City, A Bank, A Family
by THEODORE DAVIE

100 Hospital Based Nursing Schools in San Diego, 1900-1970
by DONNA FOSBINDER, MSN, RN

117 "Eating That Smoke" San Diego's Fire Department, 1889-1989
by RICHARD CRAWFORD

141 Book Reviews

NUMBER 3—SUMMER 1989

149 Early Sculpture and Sculptors in San Diego
by BRUCE KAMERLING

206 Reading Between The Lines (Of A Business Ledger)
by BEATRICE KNOTT

221 Book Reviews

226 Book Notes

NUMBER 4—FALL 1989

231 "The Adobe Is My Birthstone:" Leo Carrillo's Rancho de los Quiotes
by DALE BALLOU MAY

248 The Most Critical Option: Sex Offenses and Castration in San Diego, 1938-1975
by MARK LINSKY

260 The Cold War and Harry Steinmetz: A Case of Loyalty Legislation
by PAUL J. EISLOEFFEL

277 Book Reviews

282 Book Notes

293 Index